8. LINKS

Our Service may contain links to and from other websites and Services. We are not responsible for the privacy practices or the content of any third party sites. Please check the individual Privacy Notice of any such websites or Services before you submit any personal information to them.

9. ADVERTISERS

Please note that we show third party advertising in our games and also advertise our Services via third parties. We wanted to provide you with more detail about how we use information for advertising, both in-game and on other third party properties.

When you view ads on Game Insight's properties

To enable us to show in-game ads we may send your advertising ID, IP-address and other information to advertisers (or ad networks) to enable them to find appropriate ads to serve to you in our games and on third party properties. You can control and limit our use of your advertising ID in your device settings. Game Insight does not control which specific ads are shown in our games (this is controlled by ad networks) but we do blacklist certain categories of ads.

Advertising IDs are used by the ad networks for a number of purposes, for example, to:

- limit the number of times you see the same ad;
- ensure they are dealing with humans/with real devices and not automated bots;
- to serve you with advertisements likely to be relevant to you;
- other brands buy advertisement placement via an ad network or ad exchange to advertise their products in Game Insight's games. The ad network or ad exchange acts as intermediary between the other game companies and Game Insight. In order for an ad network to charge the company buying the ad, clicks from the ad and potentially installs of other developers' applications party apps are tracked. Views, clicks, installs and similar events from ads are measured using Advertiser ID.

IP-address is typically used by advertisers to broadly see the general geographic area you are coming from for example country, state, and sometimes at city level.

When you view Game Insight's ads on third party services

Game Insight also advertises its games in other apps by asking ad networks to serve its ads to audiences that will be interested in them. The advertising IDs are used by the ad networks for a number of purposes, including, for example, to measure ad effectiveness (looking at aggregated views, clicks and installs it generates through its advertising in other publishers' games). Advertising IDs are also used to track views, clicks, installs and other similar events from ads.

You can opt out of interest based advertising on mobile applications by changing the privacy settings of your device and selecting "limit ad tracking" (Apple iOS) or "opt out of interest based ads" (Android).

10. KEEPING YOUR ACCOUNT SECURE

10.1 Where we have given you (or where you have chosen) a password which enables you to access certain parts of the Service, you are responsible for keeping this password confidential and you are responsible for any misuse of such information. 10.2 You are solely responsible for the security and confidentiality of your account. Please ensure that you do not allow anyone else to access the Service in your name and sign off after you have finished accessing your account.
